
Decisions You Made

Along the way, you will have had to make several decisions as to the next step to take. The examiners may ask you to discuss and justify these.

What was the most important decision that you had to make during the course of your PhD?

Which decisions would you change if you were to do the work again?

Why did you choose to test your system on this group of people?